PART 1

PENSION GRANTS

(Act 13/2003, s.3)

Pensions Regulations

3. (1) Pensions, gratuities and other allowances may be granted by the Governor in accordance with the Pensions Regulations to officers who have been in service under the Government of Anguilla.

(2) Except as is otherwise provided in this section, the Pensions Regulations may from time to time be amended, added to, or revoked by regulations made by the Governor in Council with the sanction of the Secretary of State, and all regulations so made shall be laid before the House of Assembly and published in the Gazette.

(3) Whenever the Governor in Council is satisfied that it is equitable that any of the Pensions Regulations or any other regulations amending or adding to them should have retrospective effect in order to confer a benefit upon or remove a disability attaching to an officer that regulation may be given retrospective effect for that purpose but no such regulation shall have retrospective effect unless it has received the prior approval of the House of Assembly signified by resolution.

(4) All Pensions Regulations made under this section shall have the same force and effect as if they were contained in this Act and the expression "this Act" shall, wherever it occurs in this Act, be construed as including a reference to the Pensions Regulations.

(5) Any pension or gratuity granted under this Act shall be computed in accordance with the provisions in force at the actual date of an officer's retirement.

Pensions, etc., to be charged and apportioned on revenues of Anguilla

4. There shall be charged on and paid out of the general revenues of Anguilla as in this section provided all such sums of money as may from time to time be granted by way of pension, gratuity or other allowance in pursuance of this Act.

Pensions, etc., not of right

5. (1) No officer shall have an absolute right to compensation for past services or to pension, gratuity, or other allowance; nor shall anything in this Act affect the right of the Crown to dismiss any officer at any time and without compensation.

(2) Where it is established to the satisfaction of the Governor that an officer has been guilty of negligence, irregularity or misconduct, the pension, gratuity, or other allowance may be reduced or altogether withheld.

Circumstances in which pension may be granted

6. No pension, gratuity or other allowance shall be granted under this Act to any officer except on his retirement from the public service in one of the following cases—

- (a) on or after attaining the normal retirement age or, in special cases with the approval of the Secretary of State, 5 years before the normal retirement age;

(Act 13/2003, s.4)

- (b) in the case of transfer to other public service, on or after attaining the age at which he is permitted by the law or regulations of the service in which he is last employed to retire on pension or gratuity, but, if his service in such other public service is superannuated under the Federated Superannuation System for Universities or a similar insurance scheme, he has retired on one of the grounds mentioned in paragraphs (a), (c), (d), (e) and (f);

- (c) on the abolition of his office;

- (d) on compulsory retirement for the purpose of facilitating improvement in the organization of the department to which he belongs, by which greater efficiency or economy may be effected;

- (f) in the case of termination of employment in the public interest as provided in this Act;

- (g) on retirement in circumstances, not mentioned in the preceding paragraphs of this section, rendering him eligible for a pension under the Pensions (Governors of Dominions etc.) Acts, 1911 to 1936, or any Act amending or replacing those Acts.

(Act 13/2003, s.4)

Permission to continue service after 55 years

7. Any officer whose normal retirement age is 55 years may, within 12 months from 1 January 2004, apply to the Governor to continue his services until 60 years and having regard to the conditions of the public service and all other circumstances of the case, if the Governor considers that the service of any such officer should be retained, the Governor in consultation with the Public Service Commission may permit him to continue in service until 60 years.

(Act 13/2003, s.5)

Pensions of certain persons in pensionable offices who resign within 12 months after 1 January 2004

8. (1) Where any officer, who, having held a pensionable office under the Government of Anguilla for 20 years or more and, having been confirmed in the pensionable office, resigns from service and his resignation becomes effective at any time within the next following 12 months after 1 January 2004, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in section 6, such officer shall, on the day he attains the age of 55 years, be deemed to have retired from the public service and may be granted a pension in respect of his service in accordance with the Pensions Regulations.

(2) Where the resignation of an officer becomes effective under subsection (1), the total amount of his contributions in the Fund together with interest thereon shall be refunded to him immediately upon his resignation.

(Act 13/2003, s.6)

Pensions of certain persons in pensionable offices who resign after 1 January 2004

9. (1) Where any officer, who, having held a pensionable office under the Government of Anguilla for 10 years or more and, having been confirmed in the pensionable office, resigns from service at any time after 1 January 2004, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in section 6, such officer shall, on the day he attains the age of 60 years, be deemed to have retired from the public service and be paid a pension in respect of his service in accordance with Part 2 and Part 3.

(2) Every officer who becomes entitled to a pension under subsection (1) may, at his option exercisable as provided in subsection (3), be paid in lieu of such pension a pension at the rate of 3/4ths of such pension together with a gratuity equal to 12 ½ times the amount of the reduction so made in the pension. The lump-sum gratuity shall be paid immediately upon his resignation and the reduced pension on his normal date of retirement, in which case the gratuity shall be discounted at the rate of interest to be decided by the Board; but in no case shall the discounted gratuity be less than the amount equal to his total contributions in the Fund together with interest thereon.

(3) Subsections (2) to (5) of section 56 shall apply mutatis mutandis to an option exercisable under subsection (2).

(Act 13/2003, s.7)

Termination of service

10. Where an officer's service is terminated on the ground that, having regard to the conditions of the public service, the usefulness of the officer thereto and all the other circumstances of the case, such termination is desirable in the public interest, and a pension, gratuity or other allowance cannot otherwise be granted to him under the provisions of this Act, the Governor may, if he thinks fit, grant such pension, gratuity or other allowance as he thinks just and proper, not exceeding in amount that for which the officer would be eligible if he retired from the public service in the circumstances described in section 6(e).

Compulsory retirement

11. It shall be lawful for the Governor to require an officer to retire from service under the Government of Anguilla—

- (a) at any time after he attains the age of 55 years; or
- (b) in special cases, with the approval of the Secretary of State, at any time after he attains the age of 50 years.

Maximum pension

12. (1) Except in cases provided for by subsection (2), a pension granted to an officer under this Act shall not exceed two-thirds of the highest pensionable emoluments drawn by him at any time in the course of his service under the Government of Anguilla.

(2) An officer who shall have been granted a pension in respect of other public service shall not at any time draw from the funds of Anguilla an amount of pension which, when added to the amount of any pension or pensions drawn in respect of other public service, exceeds two-thirds of the highest pensionable emoluments drawn by him at any time in the course of his public service, but, where an officer receives in respect of some period of public service both a gratuity and a pension, the amount of such pension shall be deemed for the purposes of this subsection to be four-thirds of its actual amount.

(3) Where the limitation prescribed by subsection (2) operates, the amount of pension to be drawn from the funds of Anguilla shall be subject to the approval of the Secretary of State in order that it may be determined with due regard to the amount of any pension or pensions to be drawn in respect of other public service.

(4) For the purposes of this section, an additional pension granted in respect of injury shall not be taken into account; but where the officer is granted such an additional pension under this Act, the amount thereof together with the remainder of his pension or pensions shall not exceed five-sixths of his highest pensionable emoluments at any time in the course of his public service.

Increase in pension of those retiring for ill health with not more than 10 but less than 20 years' service

13. Subject to the provisions of this Act and of the Pensions Regulations, every officer holding a pensionable office in Anguilla who has been in service under the Government of Anguilla in a civil capacity for more than 10 but less than 20 years, and who retires from the service in the circumstances mentioned in section 6(e) may, on retirement, be granted a pension as if his pensionable service had been 20 years.

Liability of pensioners to be called upon to take further employment

14. (1) Every pension granted under this Act shall be subject to the condition that unless or until the officer shall have attained the age of 50 years, he may, if physically fit for service, be called upon by the Secretary of State to accept, in lieu of his pension, an office, whether in Anguilla or in other public service, not less in value, due regard being had to circumstances of climate, than the office which he held at the date of his retirement. If a pensioner so called upon declines to accept such office, the payment of his pension may be suspended until he has attained the age of 50 years.

(2) The provisions of the foregoing subsection shall not apply in any case where the Governor, being of opinion that the officer is not qualified for other employment in the public service or that there is no reason to expect that he can be shortly re-employed therein, otherwise directs.

Suspension of pension on re-employment

15. If an officer to whom a pension has been granted under this Act is appointed to any office in the public service, the payment of his pension may, if the Governor thinks fit, be suspended during the period of his re-employment.

(Act 13/2003, s.8)

Pensions, etc., not to be assignable or attachable

16. A pension, gratuity or other allowance granted or paid under this Act shall not be assignable or transferable except for the purpose of satisfying—

- (a) a debt due to the Government of Anguilla; or
- (b) an order of any Court for the payment of periodical sums of money towards the maintenance of the wife or former wife or minor child of the officer to whom the pension, gratuity or other allowance has been granted or paid;

and shall not be liable to be attached, sequestered or levied upon for or in respect of any debt or claim whatever except a debt due to the Government as aforesaid.

(Act 13/2003, s.9)

Pensions, etc., to cease on bankruptcy

17. (1) If any person to whom a pension or other allowance has been granted under this Act is adjudicated bankrupt or is declared insolvent by judgment of any competent Court, then such pension or allowance shall forthwith cease.

(2) If any person is adjudicated bankrupt or is declared insolvent as aforesaid either—

- (a) after retirement in circumstances in which he is eligible for pension or allowance under this Act but before the pension or allowance is granted; or
- (b) before such retirement, and he shall not have obtained his discharge from bankruptcy or insolvency at the date of his retirement;

then, in the former case, any pension or allowance eventually granted to him shall cease as from the date of the adjudication or declaration, as the case may be, and, in the latter case, the pension or allowance may be granted, but shall cease forthwith and not become payable.

(3) Where a pension or allowance ceases by reason of this section, it shall be lawful for the Secretary of State or, if the person in question is resident in Anguilla, the Governor, from time to time during the remainder of such person's life, or during such shorter period or periods, either continuous or discontinuous, as the Secretary of State or the Governor, as the case may be, shall think fit, to direct all or any part of the money to which such person would have been entitled by way of pension or allowance, had he not become bankrupt or insolvent, to be paid to, or applied for the maintenance or benefit of, all or any to the exclusion of the other or others, of the following, that is to say, such person and any wife, child or children of his, in such proportions and manner as the Secretary of State or the Governor, as the case may be, thinks proper, and such money shall be paid or applied accordingly.

(4) Money applied for the discharge of the debts of the person whose pension or allowance has so ceased shall, for the purposes of this section, be regarded as applied for his benefit.

(5) When a person whose pension or allowance has so ceased obtains his discharge from bankruptcy or insolvency, it shall be lawful for the Secretary of State or, if such person is resident in Anguilla, the Governor, to direct that the pension or allowance shall be restored as from the date of such discharge or any later date, and the pension or allowance shall be restored accordingly.

Pensions, etc., may cease on conviction

18. (1) If any person to whom a pension or other allowance has been granted under this Act is sentenced to a term of imprisonment by any competent Court for any offence, such pension or allowance shall, if the Secretary of State or, if such person is resident in Anguilla, the Governor, so directs, cease as from such date as the Secretary of State or the Governor, as the case may be, determines.

(2) If any person is sentenced as aforesaid after retirement in circumstances in which he is eligible for pension or allowance under this Act but before the pension or allowance is granted, then the provisions of subsection (1) shall apply as respects any pension or allowance which may be granted to him.

(3) Where a pension or allowance ceases by reason of this section, it shall be lawful for the Secretary of State or the Governor, as the case may be, to direct all or any part of the money to which such person would have been entitled by way of pension or allowance had he not been sentenced as aforesaid to be paid, or applied, in the same manner in all respects as prescribed in section 17, and such money shall be paid or applied accordingly.

(4) If such person after conviction at any time receives a free pardon, the pension or allowance shall be restored with retrospective effect; but in determining whether arrears of such pension or allowance are payable to such person and in computing the amount thereof, account shall be taken of all money paid or applied under subsection (3).

Pensions, etc., may cease on accepting certain appointments

19. If any person to whom a pension or other allowance has been granted under this Act, otherwise than under section 21, becomes either a director of any company the principal part of whose business is in any way directly concerned with Anguilla, or an officer or servant employed in Anguilla by any such company, without the prior permission of the Governor in writing, such pension or allowance shall cease if the Governor so directs, but it shall be lawful for the Governor, on being satisfied that the person in respect of whose pension or allowance any such direction shall have been given has ceased to be a director of such company or to be employed as an officer or servant of such company in Anguilla, as the case may be, to give directions for the restoration of such pension or allowance, with retrospective effect, if he shall see fit, to such a date as he shall specify, and the pension or allowance shall be restored in accordance with any such directions.

Gratuity where officer dies in the service or after retirement

20. (1) Where an officer holding a pensionable office who is not on probation or agreement, or an officer holding a non-pensionable office to which he has been transferred from a pensionable office in which he has been confirmed, dies while in service under the Government of Anguilla, it shall be lawful for the Governor to grant to his legal personal representative a gratuity of an amount not exceeding either his annual pensionable emoluments, or his commuted pension gratuity, if any, whichever is the greater. For the purposes of this section—

“annual pensionable emoluments” means the emoluments which would be taken for the purpose of computing any pension or gratuity granted to the officer if he had retired at the date of his death in the circumstances described in section 6(e);

“commuted pension gratuity” means the gratuity, if any, which might have been granted to the officer under section 24 of the Pensions Regulations if his public service had been wholly in Anguilla and if he had retired at the date of his death in the circumstances described in section 6(e) and had elected to receive a gratuity and reduced pension.

(2) Where any such officer to whom a pension, gratuity or other allowance has been granted under this Act dies after retirement from service under the Government of Anguilla, and the sums paid or payable to him at his death on account of any pension, gratuity or other allowance in respect of any public service are less than the amount of the annual pensionable emoluments enjoyed by him at the date of his retirement, it shall be lawful for the Governor to grant to his legal personal representative a gratuity equal to the deficiency.

(3) The provisions of this section shall not apply in the case of the death of any officer where benefits corresponding to the benefits which may be granted under this section are payable under the Colonial Superannuation Scheme in respect of such death.

(4) Notwithstanding the provisions contained in subsections (1) and (2), the Governor may in any case where the amount of the gratuity payable thereunder does not exceed the sum of $480, dispense with the production of probate or letters of administration and cause the gratuity to be paid to the dependant or dependants of the officer and, where there is more than one such dependant, may divide the gratuity among the dependants in such proportion as he may think fit.

Pensions to dependants when an officer dies in the discharge of his duties

21. (1) Where an officer dies—

- (a) in the actual discharge of his duty by some injury specifically attributable to the nature of his duty which is not wholly or mainly due to, or seriously aggravated by, his own serious and culpable negligence or misconduct; or
- (b) as a result of contracting a disease to which he is specifically exposed by the nature of his duty, not being a disease wholly or mainly due to, or seriously aggravated by, his own serious and culpable negligence or misconduct;

while in service under the Government of Anguilla, and such death occurs within 7 years of the date of the injury or contracting the disease, it shall be lawful for the Governor to grant, in addition to the grant, if any, made to his legal personal representative or in addition to the payment, if any, made to his dependant or dependants under section 20—

- (c) if the deceased officer leaves a widow, a pension to her, while unmarried, at a rate not exceeding ten-sixtieths of his annual pensionable emoluments at the date of the injury or $96 a year, whichever is the greater;

- (d) if the deceased officer leaves a widow to whom a pension is granted under paragraph (c) and a child or children, a pension in respect of each child, until such child attains the age of 19 years, of an amount not exceeding one-eighth of the pension prescribed under paragraph (c);
- (e) if the deceased officer leaves a child or children, but does not leave a widow, or no pension is granted to the widow, a pension in respect of each child, until such child attains the age of 19 years, of double the amount prescribed by paragraph (d);
- (f) if the deceased officer leaves a child or children and a widow to whom a pension is granted under paragraph (c) and the widow subsequently dies, a pension in respect of each child as from the date of the death of the widow until such child attains the age of 19 years, of double the amount prescribed in paragraph (d);
- (g) if the deceased officer does not leave a widow, or if no pension is granted to his widow, and if his mother were wholly or mainly dependent on him for her support, a pension to the mother, while without adequate means of support, of an amount not exceeding the pension which might have been granted to his widow;
- (h) if the deceased officer does not leave a widow or mother, or if no pension is granted to his widow or mother, and if his father were wholly or mainly dependent on him for his support, a pension to the father while without adequate means of support, of an amount not exceeding the pension which might have been granted to his widow;
- (i) if the deceased officer does not leave a child or children who is or are eligible for a pension under the provisions of this section, and if any brother or sister were wholly or mainly dependent on him for support, a pension to any such brother or sister until he or she attains the age of 19 years while without adequate means of support, of an amount not exceeding the pension which might have been granted under paragraphs (d), (e) or (f);

but—

- (j) if in the opinion of the Governor there are compassionate grounds for so doing, he may grant to any child of a deceased officer being a child who at the date of the death of the officer was wholly or mainly dependent on him for support and who had attained the age of 19 years, a pension for such period as the Governor may determine, of an amount not exceeding the pension which may be granted under paragraphs (d), (e) or (f);
- (k) where a deceased officer leaves a child who was incapacitated at the time of the officer's death (hereinafter in this section referred to as an "incapacitated child") the Governor may, notwithstanding any pension which may have been granted under paragraphs (d), (e) or (f), grant an additional pension in respect of such incapacitated child after he has attained the age of 19 years and so long as his incapacity shall continue, of an amount not exceeding one-half of the pension which may be granted under paragraph (d) or paragraph (e) aforesaid;
- (l) where compensation in respect of the death is payable under the Workmen's Compensation Act, or where benefits corresponding to benefits granted under this section are payable under the Colonial Superannuation Scheme in respect of death, the Governor may reduce the pension which may be payable under this section to such extent as he may consider reasonable;

- (m) no pension shall be payable under this subsection at any time in respect of more than 6 children exclusive of incapacitated children;
- (n) in the case of a pension granted under paragraph (g), if the mother is a widow at the time of the grant of the pension and subsequently remarries, such pension shall cease as from the date of remarriage; and if it appears to the Governor at any time that the mother is adequately provided with other means of support, such pension shall cease as from such date as the Governor may determine;
- (o) a pension granted to a female child under this section shall cease upon the marriage of such child under the age of 19 years.

- (b) to reinstate his account in the Fund in accordance with paragraph (1)(b) his service shall not, for the purpose of calculating his pensionable service, be regarded as having been broken by the fact of his not having been employed in the public service for the period between his ceasing to be employed and his re-employment therein;
- (c) to retain the amount refunded to him and contribute to the Fund as in paragraph (1)(c) his pensionable service shall commence as from the date when he is re-employed.

Pensionable Service and Computation of Pensions

Rate of pension

49. Subject to sections 52 and 53, any contributor who has been in the service of the Government for a period of 10 years or upwards and who retires in accordance with this Part shall be paid a pension at the rate of 1/960th of his pensionable emoluments for each complete month of his pensionable service.

Service qualifying for pension

50. Subject to section 37 (service not qualifying for pension) service qualifying for pension under this Part shall be the period during which a contributor was employed in the public service.

Periods which shall be taken into account as pensionable service

51. For the purpose of computing the amount of a contributor's pension the following periods during which he has paid his full contributions shall be taken into account as pensionable service, that is to say—

- (a) any period during which he has been on duty;
- (b) any period during which he has been absent from duty on leave with full or half salary; and
- (c) subject to sections 33 and 34, any period during which he has been absent from duty on leave without salary.

Retirement by reason of abolition of office

52. (1) If a contributor is compelled to retire from the public service in consequence of the abolition of his office, he shall be paid a pension at the rate specified in section 49, but in the case of a contributor who does not qualify for a pension under that section he shall be entitled to be refunded the amount of the Government's contributions to the Fund in respect of his service together with the amount of his own contributions, and interest thereon.

(2) A contributor who is compelled to retire from office by reason only of the abolition of his office, may also be paid an additional pension at the rate of 1/60th of his pensionable emoluments for each complete period of 3 years' pensionable service but—

- (a) the addition shall in no case exceed 10/60th of his pensionable emoluments; and
- (b) no addition shall be made so as to qualify a contributor for a pension of higher annual value than that for which he would have been qualified by length of service on reaching the age at which he could be required to retire under section 39 or for a pension of higher annual value than the maximum specified in section 40.

Reorganization of office and compulsory retirement

53. (1) If a contributor is removed from the public service for the purpose of facilitating improvement in the administration of the public service by which greater efficiency can be effected, he shall be paid a pension at the rate specified in section 49, but in the case of a contributor who does not qualify for a pension under that section he shall be entitled to a refund of his contributions with interest thereon.

(2) It shall be lawful for the Board to certify the entitlement to an additional pension of a contributor removed from the public service under subsection (1) as though he had retired from the public service in consequence of the abolition of his office if it is considered by the Board that the circumstances of the case justify the payment of such an additional pension and in any such case section 52(2) shall have effect.

Pensions to contributors injured in discharge of duty

54. Where a contributor has been permanently injured while in the public service—

- (a) in the actual discharge of his duty; and

- (b) without his own default; and
- (c) by some injury specifically attributable to the nature of his duty, and his retirement is thereby necessitated or materially accelerated, the Board shall, if he is qualified for a pension under section 49, certify his entitlement, in addition to the pension payable to him under that section, to an additional pension at the rate of the proportion of his actual salary at the date of his injury appropriate to his case as shown in the following table—

When his capacity to contribute to his own support is—slightly impaired	five-sixtieths;

impaired	ten-sixtieths;
materially impaired	fifteen-sixtieths;
totally destroyed	twenty-sixtieths:

But—

- (a) the amount of the additional pension shall be reduced to such an extent as the Board may think reasonable in the following cases—
 - (i) where the injured contributor has continued to actively serve for not less than 1 year after the injury in respect of which he retires;
 - (ii) where the injured contributor is at the date of the injury within 10 years of the age at which he could be required to retire; or
 - (iii) where the injury is not the sole cause of retirement, but the retirement is caused partly by age or infirmity not due to the injury;
- (b) where in the opinion of the Board, the capacity of a contributor in respect of whom an additional pension has been certified under this section to contribute to his own support has altered sufficiently to justify his inclusion in a category of disability as set out in the table different from that on which his rate of additional pension was granted, his additional pension may be altered to the rate then appropriate to his case.

Payment to injured contributor where service is less than 10 years

55. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Part a contributor injured in the circumstances mentioned in section 54 who has not qualified for a pension under section 49, upon the termination of his employment due to such circumstances, shall be paid a pension, together with additional pension, as if he were a contributor provided for in section 54.

Commutation of pension and reduced pension

56. (1) Subject to this Act a contributor to whom a pension is payable under this Part shall, if he has exercised his option as hereinafter provided, but not otherwise, be paid in lieu of such pension a pension at the rate of 75% of such pension, as specified in the exercise of his option, together with a lump sum payment equal to 12 ½ times the amount of the annual reduction so made in the pension.

(2) The option referred to in subsection (1) shall be exercisable, and if it has been exercised may be revoked, not later than 30 days preceding the date of such contributor's retirement, but the Board may, if it appears equitable in all the circumstances so to do, allow him to exercise the option or revoke an option previously exercised at any time between that date and the date of certification of the pension under this Part.

(3) Subject to subsection (2), if a contributor has exercised the option his decision shall be irrevocable so far as concerns any pension paid or payable to him under this Part.

(4) If a contributor who has not exercised the option dies after he has retired but before a pension has been paid or certified for payment under this Act, it shall be lawful for the Board to certify the payment of a lump sum to his legal personal representative and a reduced pension as provided in subsection (1), as if the contributor before his death had exercised his option to receive a lump sum payment and 75% of the pension granted to him.

(5) The date of the exercise of the option by a contributor shall be deemed to be the date of the receipt by the Board of his written notification of the exercise of the option.

(6) A re-employed contributor or re-employed pensioner shall be deemed to have exercised, or not to have exercised, in respect of his service subsequent to re-employment or retirement as the case may be, the said option, according as he exercised, or did not exercise, such option in respect of his previous service even if, in respect of such previous service, the option was not available to him.

PART 3

WIDOWS', WIDOWERS', AND CHILDREN'S PENSIONS

Interpretation

57. In this Part—

“child” shall include—

- (a) a posthumous child,
- (b) a step-child, and
- (c) an adopted child, adopted in a manner recognized by law;

“pensioner” means a person who has retired from the public service and is in receipt of a pension under Part 1 by virtue of the proviso to section 35 or Part 2 and includes a deferred pensioner as well as a person who has satisfied the conditions required for the payment of a pension under Part 2 although no payment has been actually made to him.

Application of Part 3

58. The provisions of this Part shall, mutatis mutandis, apply—

- (a) to the death of a female pensioner or contributor;
- (b) to the case of a deferred pensioner who dies before attaining the age at which the pension to which he is entitled would be payable.

Pensions payable to widow, widower and children of pensioner or contributor

59. (1) On the death of a male pensioner or contributor (hereafter in this Part called “the deceased”) who has completed 10 years’ pensionable service, there shall be paid to his dependants (if any) a pension as set out in subsections (2), (3) and (4) based on the amount of the pension he was drawing at the date of his death, or, as the case may be, to which he would have been entitled at the date of his death had he then retired in circumstances in which he would have been entitled to retire with a pension.

(2) If the deceased leaves a widow but no children, the widow shall be entitled to one-half of his pension or, as the case may be, one-half of the pension to which he would have been entitled, until her re-marriage or death if she is a widow who has reached the age of 50 years on the date of death of the pensioner. Where the widow is below the age of 50 years she shall be entitled to the payment of pension for 5 years from the date of death of the pensioner or until she remarries. Where the widow reaches the age of 50 years while drawing the pension, the Board shall if it thinks fit, recommend that the payment of pension be continued until her death or until she remarries.

(3) If the deceased leaves a widow and children by such widow or by any other relationship, the widow shall be entitled until her re-marriage or death to one-half of the amount of his pension or, as the case may be, one-half of the pension to which he would have been entitled, and the children shall, subject to section 60(2), be entitled to the other one-half of such pension in equal shares, but where the deceased dies leaving a widow and children by the widow or by any other relationship, it shall be lawful for the Board either in the first instance or at any time while pensions are payable to the children, to direct the payment to the widow of part only of such pension and to direct the payment of the balance of such pensions for or towards the maintenance or education of the children in such manner as the Board may think fit.

(4) If the deceased leaves children but no widow such children shall, subject to section 60(2), be entitled to one-half of his pension, or as the case may be, one-half of the pension to which he would have been entitled, in equal shares.

(5) For the avoidance of doubt it is hereby declared that if the deceased is survived by only one child that child shall take one-fourth of either the pension payable or the pension to which the deceased would have been entitled, as the case may be.

(6) Where a contributor dies before payment of a pension has been made to him, the amounts payable to his widow or children shall be calculated upon the pension which would have been payable to him had he not exercised the option referred to in section 56(1).

(7) Where a contributor dies before payment of a pension has been made to him and leaves no widow, or no child under the age of 18 years, the total amount of his contributions together with interest thereon shall be paid to his legal personal representative.

(8) Where a widow to whom a pension is being paid under this Part remarries a widower who is also being paid a pension under this Part, the pension shall be payable to one such spouse only, and shall cease to be payable in respect of the other. The spouse who elects to take the pension shall inform the Board within a month of remarriage.

Payment and administration of children's pensions

60. (1) In all cases of children's pension under this Part, the whole or any part of such pension may be paid either to the mother, father, or legal guardian of such children, or to the children, or to such person or persons as the Board may in its discretion consider to be fit and proper persons to apply the same for the benefit of such children, and after such payment the Board shall be free of all liability in respect of such payment.

(2) Any pension payable to or for a child shall cease on that child attaining the age of 18 years, but such payment shall continue to be made to or for a child over the age of 18 and under 21 years if that child is wholly or mainly dependent and continuously receiving full-time instructions at any University, College, school or other educational establishment.

Adjustments to pensions

61. Pension awarded upon retirement to officers whose normal retirement age shall be 60 years or 65 years, as the case may be, shall be adjusted whenever a general increase in salaries is applied to pensionable public officers, and such adjustment shall be made as recommended by the Board.
